“This is not simply one of the great live albums of 2023, it is one of the great blues rock live albums PERIOD. At times upbeat and energetic and then beautifully pensive with incredible guitar solos, Live & Howlin' is exhilarating British Blues” Ben Vee www.benveeblues.com & Bluesmusicfan Radio

“Can't speak highly enough of the Big Wolf Band, superb performance” Edinburgh Blues Club

*“If you like what you hear go out and support them somewhere and see for yourself why The Big Wolf Band are one of the great British Blues acts out there”
Dave Martin – We Bleed Music*

*“Well that was some night! Sold out, two standing ovations, queues at the merch desk... and boy did Big Wolf Band deliver!”

Formed in Birmingham in 2014, blues rock outfit Big Wolf Band fronted by acclaimed guitarist, vocalist and songwriter Jonathan Earp and Mick Jeynes on bass, continue to go from strength to strength. With two number 1 Amazon Chart bestselling albums in A Rebel's Story released in 2017 and Be Free (featuring vocals from Zoe Green) released in 2019. Their single "Get Out" which was released in 2022 was brilliantly received and now their new live album Live & Howlin' has been played worldwide and landed the number 3 spot in the prestigious IBBA Charts and continues to bring in amazing reviews.

The Big Wolf Band are one of the UK's best blues rock outfits and continue to generate brilliant reviews and responses from audiences, promoters and music writers.

The albums and singles showcase the brilliant musicianship and song writing talents of Jonathan Earp and as a result have garnered airplay from Paul Jones on his Radio 2 show, Planet Rock, HRH radio, FM radio across Europe, Australia and the USA. A wide range of international podcast and internet radio stations have also enthusiastically embraced Big Wolf Band's songs and are playing them regularly on their shows. The band also has an amazing presence on YouTube. Their songs have been added by enthusiastic lovers of the genre on various playlists and have been listened to millions of times.

The tracks Darkest of my Days and If I Ever Loved Another Woman are two songs which have attracted an incredible amount of excitement and attention on YouTube. This has had a positive effect on the band's official artist channel, Big Wolf Band TV, demonstrating strong month on month growth.

2022 was a tremendous year for the band. Big Wolf Band enjoyed playing sold out shows at the award winning Tuesday Night Music Club in Coulsdon, HRH Blues at the O2 Sheffield Academy and the Temperance Bar in Leamington Spa receiving outstanding reviews. The band were also finalists at the 2022 UK Blues Challenge event in Weston-super-Mare where they went down a storm with organisers and fans alike. The band also continued to impress at many other events and venues during the year including the Darlington R & B Club, Buxton Blues Festival and Edinburgh Blues Club.

The start of 2023 has been unbelievable, nominated in the final 5 for UK Blues Band Of The Year. The nomination has reinforced the growing reputation of the band. Their live album which was released on the 16th of March has attracted recognition from reviewers and radio presenters alike with one reviewer stating "This is not simply one of the great live albums of 2023, it is one of the great blues rock live albums PERIOD" – Ben Vee www.benveeblues.com. The release of Live & Howlin' has coincided with a spike in the bands online analytics with views across their social media increasing exponentially which has resulted in nearly 60k views across YouTube in the last 28 days. This also coincided with a YouTube show presenter mentioning the band to Eric Clapton during an interview with the legend.

"WOW!!!!, When Big Wolf Band perform you know that you're in for a special experience. This band are full of talent and can command an audience's full attention and respect demonstrating a sound and ability that has deservedly earned them a nomination for U.K. blues band of the year"
